

Etac NHS Education Event

Helping you make the right choices when choosing equipment

Join us in Glasgow and Edinburgh for a free, hands-on learning experience as inspiring as it is informative.

This interactive event is designed especially to assist healthcare professionals to make the right choices in a clinical setting when choosing equipment in different situations.

Guided by our Education team, you will learn what's new and dive into 4 "hands-on" problem-solving workshops that incorporate real-life scenarios. You will be able to try the equipment and challenge each other in what is considered best practice.

Throughout the day, our team of experts will be on hand to share insights, answer questions, and spark ideas that you can use in your daily NHS role.

Product Sessions

From Falls to Theatres and everything in between

Discover the HoverJack air assisted lifting device and HoverMatt air assisted transfer device. We'll show you how to use them, the options available and how to select the right solution and accessories to maximise efficiencies and patient comfort.

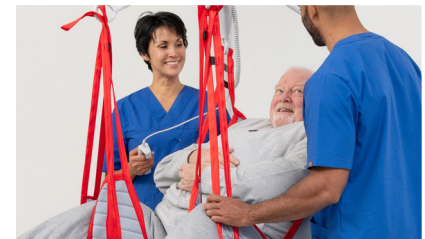

Rehab to Recovery - make early mobilisation a priority

We will look at a range of sit to stand solutions from a simple patient turner to a passive electric stand aid. We'll help you understand what to look for when choosing the right piece of equipment for your client ensuring early mobilisation is maximised where appropriate.

The benefits of overhead hoists - What, why and when

When should a gantry hoist be considered? What size is needed? How do you select the correct size and sling bar type? Learning the answers to these questions will help you make the right decision with confidence.

Making bed mobility easier with air assisted transfers

In this session you will see how to reposition patients within the hospital setting using air assisted solutions. Whether this be off-setting pressure, turning or just helping users to sit, we'll show you techniques to ensure you are not being used as a hoist mechanism!
