Etac Relax shower seat

Adding a seat to the bathroom is a great way to make sure that showering is as relaxing and enjoyable as possible. It is also an excellent starting point to improve safety. Relax offers extra support, an appealing design and space-saving functionality - making it the perfect choice for any modern bathroom and many different users. It is always in place when it's needed, and folds nicely against the wall when it's not.

Stylish and ergonomic design

Relax was developed in collaboration with industrial designers with extra focus on visually appealing details and ergonomic features.

Flexible and comfortable for users

The seat has soft edges and a rounded shape to allow for different sitting positions, and the recess in the front provides easy access when washing. The velvety surface offers excellent comfort as well as a firm grip when wet.

Many options for different needs

Relax comes in six different models and two choices of colour to accommodate varying needs. It's available with or without armrests, and can be complemented with supporting legs for heavier users. There is also a heat-reflecting back support for further warmth and comfort.

Armrests for extra support

The models with armrests provide extra support when standing up, sitting down or while seated. The armrests are foldable just like the seat, and can be folded up individually if extra space is needed or when sitting sideways.

Smooth folding

The seat and armrests fold easily and smoothly.

Features

Several sitting positions

The seat's rounded shape makes it easy to turn sideways, as well as sit down from each side. The seat area is large and comfortable.

Easy-grip armrests

The arm supports are ergonomically shaped to fit the hand and the non-slip surface ensures a safe and secure grip.

Folds flush against the wall

When folded up, Relax is very discreet and takes up minimal space. The optional arm supports also fold up flat against the wall. The seat looks equally stylish in its upright position.

Easy to mount

The installation of Relax is quick and easy with only three screws (not included). To make mounting even easier, an adhesive template marking the exact fixing points is included.

Bathroom safety

Fall accidents in the bathroom are unfortunately very common. Reducing the time you stand is the easiest way to improve safety, and having a seat in the shower is a great way to prevent accidents. Relax is the perfect starting point, as it offers added safety without having to compromise on design.

Light or dark colour options

The possibility to blend in - or stand out

For those who prefer the shower seat to be as discreet as possible, the choice of colour can be made depending on which model that best blends into their bathroom interior.

The decision can also be based on the opposite - to provide as much contrast as possible. This can be beneficial to improve visibility for someone with reduced eyesight, or enable easier recognition for people with cognitive impairments, such as dementia.

Matching grab rails - Flex

There are grab rails available in the same design series, which complement Relax both visually and functionally.

Flex offers an “an extra hand” when standing up and sitting down, making transfers easier and safer. They are available in the same white and grey as Relax, and with adhesive as well as screw mount. Any number of rails can be connected to each other and positioned in different angles.
